

Commercial Surety In-synch with large and small company bonding needs

Commercial surety bonds are critical to the operations of all commercial companies. Your customers – no matter the size of their operations – may need guidance with their surety needs as their businesses grow and evolve. Our Commercial Surety team possesses the industry knowledge and business tools to help customers assess their risk and take advantage of their commercial surety bonding opportunities.

Customers you can reach

You can serve both domestic and international bonding needs from the largest multi-national companies to “Main Street” businesses and industries, including coal/mining, financial institutions, healthcare, manufacturing, public utilities, retailers, service contractors, technology, telecommunications and transportation.

More solutions to serve broader needs

Contract surety for commercial entities – Service contracts, supply and non-construction performance and payment bonds.

Court – fiduciary – Bonds for individuals serving as executors, trustees, administrators, guardians and conservators.

Court – litigant – Plaintiff and defendant court bonds for individuals and companies involved in court actions. Common examples include: attachment, injunction, replevin, appeal cost and release of lien.

License and permit – Bonds required by statute, municipal ordinance or regulation, such as contractor license, reclamation, customs, road use and tax.

Miscellaneous – Commercial surety bonds of various types, such as lost instrument bonds, cable franchise bonds and workers compensation bonds.

Faster processing with Bond Express
