Telephone advice and consultation services provided at no extra cost for the prevention of well out-of-control incidents

OIL & GAS

Travelers Oil & Gas is proud to work with Wild Well Control, Inc. to provide our customers telephone advice and consultation services for well control incidents. These services are available at no extra cost, 24 hours a day, and there are no restrictions as to how often you can call. Our goal is to help prevent well control incidents from escalating into catastrophic events.

24-hour contact:
Wild Well Control, Inc.
Phone: 281.784.4700

At the first sign of a well control incident, contact Wild Well Control at the number below, regardless of how insignificant the incident may seem. The well control services provided by telephone are at no extra cost to you, your employees, or your drilling or service contractor.

Well control incidents include any of the following situations that you, your employees, or your drilling or service contractor may be unsure of how to handle:

- Severe loss or gain of drilling fluid.
- Leaks involving wellhead, BOP, choke or kill line equipment.
- Well kicks involving underbalance, stuck pipe, sheared pipe, pipe off bottom, no pipe in hole, plugged tubing/drillstring, washout, plugged choke, and fish or wireline in hole.
- Small surface leaks not easily or safely located.
- Problems with BOP functioning/controls.
- Excessive levels of H₂S, LEL (lower explosive limits) or noise.
- Any other condition that may lead to a well control problem.
