SPEAKER: For Jerry, a safety operations manager with a local trucking company, working with Northland risk control was a real resource.

At 8:00 PM one summer evening, Jerry got a call from one of his drivers. The driver, feeling ill, had pulled off the road, but knocked down a fence doing so. The accident caused a fuel spill. Knowing how urgently the DOT demands that fuel spills be cleaned up, Jerry called Renee, his risk control specialist at Northland. Renee immediately involved Northland's claims department.

Before daylight, the soil remediation company had dug up most of the dirt, put new soil and grass seed down, and was replacing the fence to contain some cattle when the DOT showed up. DOT was satisfied, and Jerry was impressed.

We know how to keep you moving. That's the Northland advantage.
