

---

Jessica Cicchino

Vice President of Research

Insurance Institute for Highway Safety

---

Jessica B. Cicchino currently serves as vice president for research at the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety. Dr. Cicchino's responsibilities include conducting research in a number of areas, including collision avoidance technologies and older drivers. Prior to joining the Institute as a research scientist in 2012, Cicchino was a research psychologist at the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. Dr. Cicchino received a bachelor's degree from Vassar College and a doctorate in psychology from Carnegie Mellon University.