
Ralph Pascullo

Captain, University Emergency Manager, Public Safety Training Coordinator
St. John's University

Captain Ralph Pascullo currently serves as Captain of St. John's University Department of Public Safety. In this role, he is responsible for overseeing the overall, daily operations of the Department of Public Safety at St. John's University. However, Captain Pascullo's role on campus extends further than this; he is also University Emergency Manager and Public Safety Training Coordinator. In these additional roles, he is responsible for planning disaster and emergency responses on the campus and facilitating all security officer training. Security officer training includes EMT training, CPR, first aid, and defensive driving.

Prior to joining St. John's University Department of Public Safety, Captain Pascullo served the New York City Police Department for 30 years. During his tenure with the New York City Police Department, Pascullo held the ranks of Police Officer, Sergeant, Lieutenant, Captain and Deputy Inspector. Pascullo enjoyed assignments with the Executive Officer of the Emergency Service Unit and Special Operations Division.

Captain Pascullo earned an Associate Degree from Vaughn College of Aeronautics and Technology A.A.S., a bachelor's Degree in science from St. Joseph's College, and a master's Degree from St. John's University.